Lg tromm washer showing le error code

When starting, the LG washing machine doesn't rotate the drum, although you can easily scroll it manually. The LE error appears on the display. It occurs in different modes: "Rinse", "Washing", "Spin". LG washer error code LE In LG direct-drive washing machines, the drum can twitch. It means motor locking or engine restarting. The meaning of the LE error code Before decrypting the error code, make sure you understand the indication correctly. The point is that the older LG washing machine models show the LE fault incorrectly. Many users confuse the LE code with LE one because it appears the next way: LG washer error code LE and LE In fact, the meaning of codes is fundamentally different. How to eliminate the error Before fixing the breakdown, let's understand the reasons for the code issuing. Also, it is important to know how to solve the problem. The instruction: Check the washing machine door for tightness. Press the hatch more firmly until it clicks. If the error appears on the "Spin" mode during a delicate wash, it is likely that you overload the tank with laundry. You need to reduce laundry weight by removing some items. Disconnect the LG front load washer from the network for more than 20 minutes. Then, turn it on. This action should remove the error. It is possible that a foreign object has stuck in the device. It can be somewhere between the tank and the drum, creating a mechanical lock. To remove the object, disassemble the tank of the washing machine. Check the mains voltage. Maybe the power supply is not enough for the correct operation of the machine. In addition, there can be wiring damage, so you have to change it. There is a power surge in the network. If this happens frequently, the PF code will alternately appear with the LE error, which means "power failure". It can help reboot the system or install a stabilizer. How to solve the problem if the error is not reset? The only repair will help to fix it. And you can do it on your own. Which parts to repair? Malfunction signs will help you to answer this question. Tachogenerator failure This device is responsible for the engine speed. If the gear unit fails, the appliance begins to make loud sounds and doesn't spin the drum. The display shows the LE error. Be sure to check the tachogenerator and replace it if necessary. Control Module failures A sign of a breakdown is the LG machine's failure in the "Wash", "Rinse" or "Spin" modes. After this, the system issues the LE error code. Take out and check the module. If the part is defective, replace it. Motor winding problems If the winding has burnt out, the LE error appears on the display, and the washing machine doesn't rotate the drum at all. You have to replace the stator or motor. The door doesn't close The door doesn't close or lock, and the washing machine displays the fault code. Perhaps the door lock or handle has broken, which requires replacement. There may also be a violation of the chain contact of the lockout device. Inspect wiring. The line filter is out of order A malfunction in the line filter operation can cause the LE error. Check the part for a breakdown using a multimeter. What does LE mean on my LG washer? Error LE indicates engine lock. The source of the problem is a stuck thing, a poorly closed sunroof, a malfunction of the control module. Among the more serious reasons is a malfunction of the tachogenerator; mainboard, door slam mechanism, open circuit or damage to the motor winding. What is LE in washing machine LG? The LE error code indicates that the motor cannot start: it buzzes and does not spin the drum. Reasons: failure of the control board, the door not slammed to the end, stuck object, damage to the tachogenerator sensors, malfunction of the latch, burnout of the motor winding. How do I fix the error LE on my LG washer? To resolve the LE error, disconnect the washing machine from the power supply for a few minutes, and then turn it on again. If this does not help, look for the object stuck behind the hatch seal and remove it. Check the power supply circuit, inspect the sensor, control chip, tacho and replace them if necessary. Is your LG washer displaying an LE error code? Then this guide is for you. The LE error code means that the motor in your washing machine is locked. It's usually due to a simple reason, like your washer is overloaded, but sometimes it can be a more serious issue that takes a lot more effort to fix. Simply follow each step below to find the cause and fix it. This guide covers most major models of LG washers, including: RLM20K WD-10271BD WD-11275BD WD-13276BDM WD-90282BD WM2233HW WM2277HS WM2301HR WM2301HW WM2455HG WM2455HW WM2455HW/00 WM2487HRMA/00 WM2487HWMA/00 WM2496HSM WM2496HWM/00 WM2688HNM WM2688HWMA/00 WM3070HWA WM3470HVA WM3470HWA Step One - Reset Your Washer The first step is to reset your washer. Sometimes the LE error code is displayed simply because the washer is overloaded and the motor stops being able to operate. Here's how to reset your washer: Press the "power" button to turn the washing machine off.Turn the power off to the washing machine at the wall, or turn the circuit breaker off.Press and hold the "start/pause" button for five seconds.You can now turn the power back on at the wall or turn the circuit breaker back on.Test if the LE error code has stopped showing. If so, this means the problem has been fixed, and if not, move on to step two. Step Two - Check the Rotor If your washing machine is still showing the LE error code, then the next step is to check the rotor. When the rotor becomes faulty, your washer won't be able to work. Please note you should only attempt this step if you are experienced with working with appliances, as it can be quite difficult to do. Here's how to check the rotor unit: Turn the power off to the washer.Turn the water supply off, and then disconnect all hoses.Pull the washer out from the wall or its cabinet so you can access the back of it.Remove the back panel by removing the screws that attach it in place, and then unclip it from the rest of the washer cabinet.Locate the rotor and then remove the bolt that attaches the rotor to the tub shaft. Make sure you are careful when you are doing this, as some of the edges can be sharp.Once removed, check the teeth of the rotor to see if they are stripped or are missing.If you find that the rotor is defective, it will need to be replaced with a new one.Once replaced, you need to check if the error code has disappeared. If not, move on to step three. Step Three - Check the Rotor Position Sensor In your washing machine, you have what is called a rotor position sensor (RPS) or sometimes called a hall sensor. The purpose of this component is to help the control board determine if your washer is operating correctly. When the RPS fails, an LE error code will be displayed. Again, only attempt this repair if you have experience working with appliances. The easiest way to check if the RPS is defective is to just replace it with a new one. Here's how to do that: Ensure that the power is still switched off.If you haven't already removed the back panel, remove it and then remove the bolt that holds the rotor to the tub shaft.Remove the rotor unit.Unhook the two power connectors that are connected to it (you may need to remove a couple of screws to be able to unhook them).Remove the bolts that hold the stator in place.Once the stator is loose enough, you can fold it down, and this will give you access to the rotor position sensor.Unclip the two writing harnesses from the switches.Check all of the wires for signs of damage. If damaged, they will need to be fixed or replaced. Remove the RPS from the stator, and then place the new RPS back where the old one was.You can now reattach all of the components that you took apart and put your washing machine back together (except for the back panel) Once your washer is back together, you need to turn it back on and see if the LE error code has disappeared. If it has, you can put the back panel back on and reattach the hoses. Those are the main causes of your LG washer displaying an LE error code. If the error code is still displaying, then you will need to call a qualified technician, or you might even consider purchasing a new washing machine, depending on how old your existing one is. Troubleshooting Laundry Accessories, Washer Dryer Combos, Washers 04/25/2018 Print Email Copy Link An LE error code on the washer's display indicates that the motor is locked, possibly due to a heavy wash load. Large and heavy sized loads will put a strain on the motor, causing the LE code to occur. Performing a reset on the washer will normally resolve this error with a reduced load size. But if the error code displays on every washing cycle, the unit will require a repair service. How to reset the washing machine: Press POWER to turn the washer off. Unplug the washer from the power outlet or turn the circuit breaker to the unit off. With the power disabled, press and hold the START/PAUSE button for 5 seconds. Plug the washer back in, or turn the circuit breaker back on. For more information about how to reset your specific model, please refer to the owner's manual. Visit our Documents and Manuals page to download a copy of your owners manual. If washing a heavy or large load, reduce the load size and attempt to restart the cycle. The washer should now be reset and the LE code cleared. If the issue persists, LG recommends that all repairs are performed by an Authorized Service Center.
